How to Book a Safari!

Firstly, where would you like to safari?

From the wide-open spaces of Tanzania and Kenya to the waters of the Okavango Delta and the bushveld of South Africa.

Explore the deserts of Namibia and view the majestic Victoria Falls. Feast in the Cape Winelands and dive with the great white sharks.

We will work through whether you are seeking to do only a safari, combining with cultural experiences, wonderful cities, islands or cuisine.

What type of accommodations are available?

This varies hugely on your budget and destination. Luxury lodges and more moderate options can be offered. These will offer all of your game viewing activities and great cuisine.

Tented camps can be permanent which as a lodge remains in one area, but with a canvas infrastructure. Mobile camps though offering all the home comforts and more will either move with your safari or seasonal to follow eg. the migration. All camps are ensuite.

The best time to go on safari will depend on your schedule and preferences. Give us a call so we can discuss the various seasons.

Safari duration can be from ten days and longer. Destinations in Africa are easily combined to offer a diverse safari experience and other options of beach and culture exploration.

What to expect on safari...

For most camps and lodges, you will enjoy two game viewing activities daily.

You will start early in the morning by 5:30 am so you can view the sunrise whilst watching Africa come to life.

By late morning you will return to your camp to enjoy a lunch which is usually served outdoors where you can watch wildlife traverse through your camp.

Enjoy down time till mid-afternoon. Relax at the pool or read a book.

Enjoy refreshments around 3:00 pm before your next safari drive. Your guide will endeavor to find wildlife on your wish list! Enjoy sundowners at a prime spot to watch the sunset before heading back to camp. Nothing is more beautiful and serene than the sunset time in Africa.

On return to camp, freshen up and join fellow guests around the fire to catch up on your day's viewings. Dinner will follow with a scrumptious meal and a night cap before heading off to bed.

Come witness this amazing continent with its abundance of wildlife, breathtaking landscapes and heart-warming people. We can make this happen!
